PRELIMINARY RECITALS

Pursuant to a petition filed October 14, 2014, under Wis. Stat. § 49.45(5), and Wis. Admin. Code § HA 3.03(1), to review a decision by the Waukesha County Health and Human Services in regard to Medical Assistance, a hearing was held on December 09, 2014, at Waukesha, Wisconsin.

NOTE: the record was held open to receive a copy of an April 14, 2013 notice advising the Petitioner of her family's continued BadgerCare+ coverage. The notice has been marked as Exhibit 37 and entered into the record.

The issue for determination is whether Waukesha County Health and Human Services (the agency) correctly determined that the Petitioner was overpaid BadgerCare+ benefits between July 1, 2012 and January 31, 2014.

There appeared at that time and place the following persons:

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. Petitioner (CARES # [REDACTED]) is a resident of Waukesha County.
2. On May 4, 2012, the agency sent the Petitioner a notice indicating that all five people in her household were enrolled in BadgerCare+. (Exhibit 27)
3. That same notice indicated that the income that the agency counted was Petitioner's husband's self-employment income of $107.00 per month and her unemployment insurance benefits of $350.00 per week. (Id.)
4. The May 4, 2012 notice also advised the Petitioner that she needed to report when there is a change in health insurance coverage or when the household income goes over $2,836.00. (Exhibit 27)
5. On May 14, 2012, the Petitioner's husband began working full time for a pharmacy and to date, he has continued to work in that capacity. (Testimony of Petitioner's husband; Exhibit 28)
6. In September 2012, the Petitioner and her family enrolled in the healthcare plan offered by her husband's employer. (Testimony of Petitioner's husband)
7. The Petitioner did not report her husband's employment nor did she report the change in insurance. (Testimony of the Petitioner's husband)
8. On April 15, 2013, the agency sent the Petitioner a notice advising her that the agency's records showed their household income to be below $1292.00 per month and that her household did not have health insurance through a job. The notice stated that the BadgerCare+ coverage would continue, but Petitioner needed to report changes in household income and whether she signs up for other health insurance. (Exhibit 37)
9. On May 28, 2013, the Petitioner obtained part-time employment with a real estate firm and she has continued to work there, to date. (Exhibit 29)
10. The agency became aware of a possible overpayment/ income discrepancy in December 2013. (Testimony of Ms. Jones)
11. On August 28, 2014, the agency sent the Petitioner four Medical Assistance/BadgerCare/BadgerCare Plus Overpayment Notices:

Claim # [REDACTED], for the period of July 1, 2012 through August 31, 2012 for $396.00. This was for the premium owed.

Claim # [REDACTED], for the period of September 1, 2013 through January 1, 2014, for $2,557.33. This was based upon a combination of the capitation rate and the services used.

Claim # [REDACTED] for the period of September 1, 2012 to August 31, 2013, for $3,832.00. This was based upon the premium owed.

Claim # [REDACTED] for the period of September 1, 2013 to January 31, 2014 for $150.00. This was for the premium owed for Petitioner's children. (Exhibit 6; Testimony of Ms. Jones)
12. The Petitioner filed a request for fair hearing that was received by the Division of Hearings and Appeals on October 14, 2014. (Exhibit 1)

DISCUSSION

An “overpayment” occurs when BadgerCare+ benefits are paid for someone who was not eligible for them, or when BadgerCare+ payments are made in an incorrect amount. Some examples of how overpayments occur are concealing or not reporting income, failure to report a change in income, and/or providing misinformation at the time of application regarding any information that would affect eligibility. Wis. Stat. § 49.497; BadgerCare+ Eligibility Handbook (BEH) § 28.1.

The agency is required to initiate recovery of BC+ overpayments, if the incorrect payment resulted from applicant/member error; fraud/intentional program violation or member loss of an appeal. BEH+ §28.2

Per BEH+ §28.3, overpayments may not be recovered under the following circumstances:

1. The member reported the change timely, but the case could not be closed or the benefit reduced due to the 10-day notice requirement.
2. Agency error (keying error, math error, failure to act on a reported change, etc).
3. Normal prospective budgeting projections based on best available information.

In a Fair Hearing concerning the propriety of an overpayment of benefits, such as this, the agency has the burden of proof to establish that the action taken by the county was proper. Petitioner must then rebut the agency’s case and establish facts sufficient to overcome the evidence of correct action by the agency.

In the case at hand, Petitioner did not dispute that she and her family received BadgerCare+ benefits during the time in question.

By July 1, 2012, BadgerCare+ members had to report changes in income that exceeded 100% FPL, 133% FPL, 150% FPL, 185% of FPL, 200% FPL, 250% FPL, 300% FPL, 350% FPL and 400% FPL. (BEH §27.03 – release 12-02) The change needed to be reported by the 10th of the month following the change in income. Id.

Prior to this, the reporting thresholds were 100%, FPL, 150% FPL, 200% FPL, 250% FPL and 300% FPL. (BEH §27.03 – release 07-01)

In 2012, 100% of FPL for a household of five was $27,010 annually or $2251.00 per month. aspe.hhs.gov/poverty/12poverty.shtml

In May 2012, Petitioner’s reported household income was:

+$1505.00 Petitioner’s unemployment income
 ($350 per week x 4.3 average weeks per month =$1505 per month)
 +$107.00 Self Employment Income from Petitioner’s husband

$1612.00, which is 72% of FPL.

Petitioner’s actual household income for May 2012 was:

$1997.89 Petitioner’s husband’s first paycheck (See Exhibit 28)
 +$1505.00 Petitioner’s wife unemployment income
 ($350 per week x 4.3 average weeks per month =$1505 per month)
 +$107.00 Self Employment Income

$3609.89 Total income for May 2012

$3609.89 is 160% of FPL. This surpassed the 100% FPL, 133% FPL and 150% FPL reporting thresholds. So, Petitioner needed to report this change in income by June 10, 2012, which would have affected benefits in July 2012, but she did not do so.

Petitioner's income continued to be underreported. In April 2013, the agency had Petitioner's household income listed below $1292, when in fact, Petitioner's household income continued to be well above that. (See Exhibits 28 and 29) In addition, Petitioner failed to report that the whole household had access to and had signed up for other insurance through her husband's employer, as of September 2012. As such, the overpayment of benefits continued until Petitioner's BadgerCare+ benefits were terminated at the end of January 2014.

Accordingly, it is found that the agency correctly determined the Petitioner was overpaid BadgerCare+ benefits. However, "The benefit recovery period for incorrectly paid benefits shall be limited to one year prior to the date that the overpayment is discovered." Wis. Admin. Code §DHS 2.04(1)(b)

In the case at hand, the agency became aware of a possible overpayment in December 2013. As such, the agency may only reach back to December 2012 to recoup an overpayment.

The Petitioner argues that she should not be held accountable for the overpayment, because she was not aware that her family and she were continuing to receive BadgerCare+ benefits. The Petitioner's husband testified that they thought the benefits would just run out. However, the agency sent Petitioner notices in May 2012 and April 2013 advising her that the household had BadgerCare+ coverage, what the agency believed the household income to be and what her responsibilities were for reporting changes. (See Exhibits 9 and 37) As such, Petitioner and her husband were made aware of what information the agency had and their reporting instructions, but they still failed to report her husband's income from the pharmacy and they failed to report their enrollment in employer sponsored health insurance.

Even if Petitioner's argument had merit, her argument is equitable in nature, and so cannot be addressed. Administrative law judges do not possess any equitable powers but must apply the law as it is written. (See, Final Decision, OAH Case No. A-40/44630, [by Timothy F. Cullen, Secretary, DHSS] (Office of Administrative Hearings, n/k/a, Division of Hearings & Appeals- Work & Family Services Unit December 30, 1987)(DHSS); "An administrative agency has only those powers which are expressly conferred or can be fairly implied from the statutes under which it operates. [citation omitted]" Oneida County v. Converse, 180 Wis.2d 120, 125, 508 N.W.2d 416 (1993). "No proposition of law is better established than that administrative agencies have only such powers as are expressly granted to them or necessarily implied and any power sought to be exercised must be found within the four corners of the statute under which the agency proceeds." American Brass Co. v. State Board of Health, 245 Wis. 440, 448 (1944)

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The agency correctly determined that the Petitioner was overpaid BadgerCare+ benefits between December 1, 2012 through January 1, 2014.

Per Wis. Admin. Code §DHS 2.04(1)(b) the agency may not recoup an overpayment occurring prior to December 1, 2013.

THEREFORE, it is

ORDERED

That the agency rescind Claim # [REDACTED] for the period of July 1, 2012 through August 31, 2012.

That the agency amend Claim # [REDACTED] to reflect an overpayment period from December 1, 2012 to August 31, 2013 only.

The agency shall take all administrative steps to complete these tasks within ten days of this decision.

That the appeals concerning Claim # [REDACTED] for the period of September 1, 2013 through January 1, 2014 and Claim # [REDACTED] for the period of September 1, 2013, through January 31, 2014, are hereby dismissed.

REQUEST FOR A REHEARING

You may request a rehearing if you think this decision is based on a serious mistake in the facts or the law or if you have found new evidence that would change the decision. Your request must be received within 20 days after the date of this decision. Late requests cannot be granted.
